

ACES SPACE

/// TEAM OR TOXIC?

Real Jockeys live and die with their fans. Those who do not bow to the whims of fandom will bleed followers and be forgotten – and True Fans know it as they can easily become as toxic as their idols.

When you stream a game of Aces in Space online or play otherwise in front of spectators, you can let them vote at the start of each new scene: Do your fans want to see spirited teamwork? Or are they in the mood for some drama and ego trips?

If the majority votes for Team, the first advantage you create during a scene gains one additional free invocation.

If the majority votes for Toxic, the person whose Toxicity is first compelled in a scene gains an additional FATE point.

While playing offline with spectators, you can let them vote via Thumbs Up (Team) or Thumbs Down (Toxic). With larger audiences, you can distribute double-sided easily distinguishable signs.

Twitch offers a native Poll function for Partner and Affiliate Channels. Access it by using the feature “Create a New Poll” in your Dashboard (you might have to add it first among the “Grow your Community” options). Start a new Poll with the title “Team or Toxic?” and the options “Team” and “Toxic” by clicking on “Start Poll”. Your audience can now vote with “!vote Team” or “!vote Toxic” in the chat.

If you do not have Affiliate status, there are several extensions and bots that you can plug into your Channel for similar functions.

Of course, even if you’re not currently holding a vote, you can encourage your streaming audience to roleplay as your chapter’s dedicated followers in text chat, providing adoration, snide comments and sage armchair-piloting.
